Since a young age, Official Nancie's world has revolved around music. Growing up in a musical family inspired her to pursue her dream of becoming a DJ. From being a BritYouth pupil at the age of 11, to spreading her wings and finding her voice as a recording artiste at Rich Bitch studios, the now 21-year-old talent, is climbing the ladder whilst carving a name for herself as a respected female DJ along the way.

A whirlwind of a year has seen the fresh, young DJ and producer put out track after track. Her most recent releases have been: 'Where The Love Lies (Original Mix)' - Ali Emm, Kamikarzy & Official Nancie which featured on the 2015 Capital FM clothing range advert that was remixed by Scott Gascoigne and Nova Music, 'Meet With You' - Official Nancie and Josh Smith released by Loin Records and 'I'll Be Waiting' - Tom Bull and Official Nancie by Nu Wave Records which had early support from Disclosure, B-traits and TS7 and it doesn't stop there... The Squatters will also be working in the studio with Official Nancie, so keep your eyes peeled and watch this space for an exciting new track yet to drop!

Her live performances truly offer an unparalleled style in delivery when she's behind the decks. The intensity she radiates when performing infused with her crowd-pleasing track selection goes hand in hand to create the perfect recipe for a night to remember.

The start of 2016 has seen Nancie writing, recording, producing original tracks as well as featuring with other artistes and co-producing to release some exciting music in the year ahead. Her most recent release 'Turn Me On - Kevin Lyttle (Official Nancie Remix)' has proven that Official Nancie is fast becoming a force to be reckoned with and the ripples of her impact are being felt across the globe.
